

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Call queuing is implemented in a telecommunications advanced intelligent network. After a call to a busy subscriber line is queued, information about the queued call is collected. Utilization statistics based on the collected queue
5 utilization information are then generated and made available to the subscriber.

USW 0626 PUS
Customer No. 22193